KEY TO THE NAMES OF PERSONS

OCCURRING

In the Early Dutch Records of Albany and Vicinity.

P R E F A C E .

The student who searches the early Dutch records meets with many difficulties, none of which are more vexations than their personal names. The majority of the First Settlers ordinarily used no surnames, some evidently had none. In these cases individuals were often distinguished by personal peculiarities, trades, &c., which, though sufficient for the time, give little or no aid to one tracing the pedigree of a family. It is only after great familiarity with the early writings and a careful noting of the use of surnames as they are sometimes ascribed to wills, conveyances, and other important papers that any connection can be established between a first settler and his later descendants.

But while many individuals had no surnames whatever apparently, a few families had two or more. Marcellus Janse Van Bommel was farmer of the burger and tapster's excise of liquors in Beverwyck many years. Some of his children took Marcellis as their surname, others Van Ieren; without a knowledge of this fact it would be quite impossible for his descendants to trace back their pedigree to him. A similar case occurred in the Albany branch of the Bratts. In the passage over from Holland one child was born at sea in a storm and he was named Storm Van Derzee, which epithet he and his descendants have since used as a surname.

It was not uncommon for the same individual to have two or more surnames and to use them indifferently. Jan Barentse Wemp [Wempe] was sometimes called Poest; he had a mill on the Poesten-kil which perhaps derived its name from him rather than from the Dutch word poesten. After his death in 1663 his widow Maritie Mynderste married Sweer Teunise. He had two surnames, Van Velsen and Van Westbroeck. Jan Fort of Niakayuna had the following aliases: Jan La Fort, Jan Vandervort and Jan Libbertee.

The change in the spelling and pronunciation of names is likewise a source of considerable embarrassment. Who would recognize the ancient Du Trieux (pronounced Du Troo) in the modern Truux, or Beaulis in Bovie, or Barrols in Barroway, or finally the familiar name of Jones in such laughable disguises as TSaus, TJans, and Shawna.

The system of nomenclature in common use among the early Dutch settlers consisted in prefixing the child's to the father's Christian name, terminating in se or sen; in baptism but one name was usually given; the patronymic was used by custom in all cases, and in the absence of a surname was sometimes adopted as such. Thus the children of Rntger Jacobsen (Van Schoenderwoert or Van Woert) were respectively Margaret Rutgers, Engel Rutgers, and Harmen Rutgers, and Rutgers was subsequently assumed as the family name. The two sons of the First Settler Wynant Gerritse (Vander Pool) were Melgert Wynantse and Gerrit Wynantse. The First Settler, Harmon Tomase Hun (Van Amersfort) had a son named Tomas Harmense and a daughter Wynitie Harmense. The First Settlers Philip and David Schnyler, were more commonly called Philip and David Pieterse, being sons of Pieter Schnyler.

Occasionally two patronymics were used, as Samuel Arentse Samuelse Bratt; i. e., Samuel Bratt the son of Arent, who was the son of Samuel.

The use of surnames gradually increased among the Dutch from the time the Province was occupied by the English in 1664, and after the first quarter of the following century few names were written without the addition of a family name.

The following list is intended to serve as a key to such surnames as are occasionally or almost constantly omitted in the ancient Dutch Records of Albany and Schenectady. It is as nearly full as the compiler, after a somewhat careful reading of these documents, can make it. The names of persons without surnames, or if having them were not entered in those records, will not of course be found here; unfortunately these are somewhat numerous. Another embarrassment in the identification of persons arises from the fact, that some bear the same Christian name. When such cases occur in the following list, the dates annexed will sometimes aid in solving the difficulty. Thus the surname of Jacob Abrahams, found in documents dating 1665-84, was Vosburg alias Knuyer; in those of date 1705, it was Van Deusen. But where there is little or no difference in the dates this help fails, and all is left to conjecture.

CONTRIBUTIONS

FOR THE

Genealogies of the First Settlers of Albany.

In offering to the curious the following contributions for the family history of Albany county, it may be expected that the compiler should briefly indicate the character of the people, the extent of territory occupied, the sources and deficiencies of information, and the peculiar difficulties of the work.

The site of the present city of Albany was first occupied as a trading post in 1614. After the charter of the Privileged West India Company, in 1621, Fort Orange was built, around which clustered the little hamlet occupied by the servants and factors of the Company, who claimed and exercised the entire Indian trade. Hence colonization was not encouraged, contrary to the provisions of the charter, by which they were bound to "advance the peopling of those fruitful and unsettled parts;" the greed of gain swallowed up all other interests. At length the evil became so apparent and so forcibly presented to the notice of the Directors in Amsterdam, that they were obliged to seek a remedy. On the 7th day of June, 1623, under the title of "Freedoms and Exemptions" concession was made to Patroons to plant colonies in New Netherland.

From the haste with which the Directors in Holland proceeded to avail themselves of the privileges thus granted, one might almost suspect this charter was granted for their special profit and gratification. The failure of the West India Company and the Patroons in fulfilling the requisitions of their charters relating to the colonization of the new province and the encouragement of agriculture, became so apparent in 1638 as to call for the interference of the States-General, and after the agitation and rejection of many projects the Directors were induced to proclaim free trade and free lands to private persons under what they conceived necessary restrictions. This measure had a happy effect in stimulating immigration to New Netherland from the mother country.

The population of New Netherland, at the beginning of Stuyvesant's administration (1647), is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 3,000; at its close in 1664 it was about 10,000. The Dutch had held the province fifty years, and this was the result of their attempts to colonize it. Its natural advantages both for trade and agriculture were unequaled by any like portion of the continent. The nation which had redeemed its own country from the ocean, which had conquered its freedom from the Spanish yoke, and led all European nations in foreign trade was just the people to found a new empire on these shores. The Dutch character was not wanting in the requisite energy, perseverance and pluck; but it was the system of government, persevered in against protests and petitions, that was chiefly at fault.

The population of Fort Orange at this early period can not be exactly known; that it was small may be justly inferred from several facts: First, The church built in 1643 was 34 ft. by 19 ft. and contained but nine banken (benches) for the worshippers; yet this house served the little community until 1656. Second, A Jesuit missionary who visited the village in 1646 mentions that it contained then but ten thatched cottages, Third, The number of settlers shown by the Van Rensselaer papers as having been sent over to the Colonie up to 1664 is only 210.* It is not to be supposed that all those persons who were attracted to Fort Orange by its happy location for Indian traffic, were either tenants or servants of the Patroon of Rensselaerswyck, or were even under his manorial jurisdiction. Fort Orange and the little hamlet which clustered around its walls for safety were always claimed by the West India Company as under their exclusive authority. This claim, however, was strenuously resisted by the Patroon. Hence originated that memorable and almost bloody contest for power between those obstinate, hard-headed officials, Gov. Stuyvesant and Commissary Slichtenhorst.

The Dongan charter of 1686, however, quieted further questions of jurisdiction: Albany became a city one mile wide on the river and 13½ miles long. All outside of these limits belonged to the Colonie.

The early population of Fort Orange and Beverwyck, though almost pure Dutch at first, was changeable: after a few years spent in traffic with the Indians some returned to Patria; some retired to New Amsterdam (New York), whilst others passed beyond the limits of the Colonie and purchased lands at Kinderhook, Claverack, Catskill, Cocksackie, Niskayuna, Half Moon, and Schenectady.

The conquest of the province by the English in 1664 introduced a new element into the population; the sheriff of the county, clerk of the village and city, and officers and soldiers of the garrison were mainly English or New Englanders; a few of these intermarried with Dutch maidens and became permanent citizens. Later, another nationality was introduced: through the bounty of Queen Anne some thousands of Palatines were sent over in 1708-22; they settled at East and West Camps on the Hudson, and afterwards in the Schoharie valley, and at German Flats on the Mohawk.

* O'Callaghan's History of New Netherland.

Until 1661 the powers of the magistrate of Fort Orange extended south to the Esopus (Kingston). By the division of the province into counties in 1683, Albany county comprised all the territory north of Dutchess and Ulster on both sides of the river, and the village of Albany was regarded as the fountain of authority both in church and judicial matters by the scattered inhabitants of this great region.

The Albany church founded about 1640 was the only one north of Esopus having a permanent ministry until long after 1700, save that of Schenectady: and as all young children in early times were christened in the church and their names entered in the Doop Boek, these ancient baptismal records have a peculiar value and interest to the genealogist. Unfortunately the records, previous to 1684, are wanting; from that date onward they are complete.

The following pages contain the names of all children baptized and recorded in this church from 1684 to 1800 posted and arranged in families. Large additions have also been made from other sources, among which are the wills, deeds, mortgages, marriage and other contracts, powers of attorney, proceedings of magistrates, &c., found in the offices of the county and city clerks: the early records and papers in the secretary of state's office, the most of which have been fully calendared by Dr. O'Callaghan; and Mr. Munsell's Annals and Historical Collections of Albany. These sources of information are by no means exhausted: the patient antiquarian has still ample room for gleaning in the same fields, and new ground for research in family papers, records in family bibles, and more especially in those of the Colonie belonging to the Van Rensselaer family.

Although these contributions are not to be regarded as full pedigrees of the families named, down to 1800, they are as complete in most cases for the first three or four generations as they are ever likely to be made from documentary evidence. Considering the great interest awakened periodically among the descendants of Anneke Janse and the real or imaginary connection which most of the ancient Dutch families of the valley of the Hudson, claim with that noted lady, it might reasonably be supposed that their pedigrees would long before this have been clearly established. In some cases this is the fact, but it is to be feared that through tradition or something worse a large element of fiction has been introduced into many genealogies, which it is hoped may in part be removed by the facts hereafter stated.

The Schenectady Families occasionally referred to in the following pages is a work in manuscript similar to this, relating to Schenectady and the valley of the Mohawk.

Bratt. Two brothers of this name, Arent Andriese, and Albert Andriese, were among the early settlers of Albany. The former settled in Schenectady with his family in 1663, and became the progenitor of the families of this name in that city and vicinity; the latter remained in Albany. [NOTE. Some of the Bratts belonged to the Lutheran Church of Albany, whose ancient records are lost. Such children as were christened there, will not be found here.]

BRATT, Albert Andriese, de Noorman, had a farm and mill on the Norman's kil, which took its name from him. In 1672, his son Barent succeeded him in the occupation of the mill, and in 1677 Tenuis Slingerland, his son-in-law, succeeded to the lease of his farm. He died, according to Dr. O'Callaghan, the 7th June, 1686, "een van de ondeten eerste inwoonders der Colonie Rensselaerswyck." His first wife was Annetie Barentse Van Rotmers, who was deceased in 1662. On the 24th Oct., 1670, the governor gave an order for the separation of Albert Andriese and Geertruy Vosburgh because "strife and difference hath arisen between them." His children, all by his first wife probably, were Barent; Eva, the wife first of Antony de Hooges, and second of Roeloff Swartwout of Esopus; Storm alias Storm Albertse Vanderzee; Engeltie, wife of Tenuis Slingerland of Onisquahaw; Gisseltie, wife of Jan Van Eëchelen; Andries; Jan; Dirk.

BRATT, Barent Albertse, lived in 1700 without the North Gate just west of the Main Guard, near or on the east corner of Steuben street and Broadway, and had frequent warnings from the Common Council not to fence in certain grounds there belonging to the city. All his children were born before 1684, as their names are not found in the church records extant. The following came to maturity and had families: Antony, Dirk, Johannes, Daniel.

BRATT, Dirk Albertse, was living in Albany as late as 1678; his children if he had any, have not been met with in the records of the Dutch church.

BRATT, Jan Albertse (of Catskill, 1720), and Geesie (Goesie Goschie) Janse, (Dirkse?). Ch: Johannes, bp. Feb. 3, 1684; Andries and Pieter, twins, bp. Jan. 10, 1686; Barent, bp. Christina Bowman; Johannes, bp. July 5, 1702. The three following baptisms are recorded in the Doop-boek of the ancient Lutheran Church of Loonenburgh (Athena); Magdalena, b. "op de Flakte," Mar. 15, 1704, and bp. in the Lutheran church of Albany, June 5, 1704; Jochem or Joachim, b. "on the Flat" July 24, and bp. in the Lutheran church of New York, Sept. 4, 1706; Gosette, b. "op de Flakte Loonenburgh," and bp. "op Klinkenberg," June 6, 1708.

BRATT, Dirk Arentse, was son of the first settler Arent Andriese B., of Schenectady; m. to Maria Van Eps in 1684, by Reinier Schaets, son of Do. Schaets, and magistrate at Schenectady. Dirke Arentse settled in Niskayuna. Ch: Lysbeth, bp. Feb. 3, 1686; Johannes, bp. Aug. 27, 1693; Cataljntje, bp. Oct. 9, 1695, m. Willem Barret; Anna, bp. Aug. 11, 1696; Martie, bp. Sept. 7, 1701, m. Ryckert Van Vranken; Andries, bp. Oct. 12, 1707; Dirk, bp. Oct. 30, 1710. All the above children are mentioned in their father's will made Jan. 16, 1727. See Schenectady Families.

Mrs. DeHulter, through her father, inherited one-tenth of the colony Rensselaerwyck which she received in a conveyance of the land lying between the Poesten and Wynant's kil from Jeremiah Van Rensselaer in 1674. This land she and her second husband, Ebgingh, conveyed to Jurriaen Theunisse in 1676, who afterwards conveyed it to Philip Pieterse Schuyler. De Hulter died about 1657 and his widow m. Jeronimus Ebgingh of Esopus, Feb. 22, 1658-9 in New Amsterdam. After the death of her first husband, Mrs. D. H. removed to Esopus and settled upon a patent of land there, consisting of 500 acres, which she obtained in 1657, at the same time selling out her property in Beverwyck. A pantile bakery, established by her husband, formed a part of this property.

Loveridge, William, hatter. In 1671 he bought a house and lot of Pieter Jacobse Borsboom on the east side of Broadway, bounded north by the king's court house. This lot was taken to extend Hudson street to the river. In 1676 he was accused of having charged the Dutch with supplying the Indians with ammunition, and ordered to be kept in custody until he made good the charge; not proving the same, he was fined 20 beavers. In 1678 he and others were condemned for planting a scandalous tree before the door of Richard Pretty, magistrate; he addressed Capt. Brockhols in extenuation, that it was a custom of the place to set up a tree on the occasion of marriage; notwithstanding, his sentence was confirmed. In 1680 he owned a farm at Catskil, and petitioned for an addition of 40 acres. He had a son William.

Myndertse, Barent, master shoemaker, in Beverwyck, as early as 1659; d. about 1689, when Pieter Vosburgh administered on his estate. It is not known that he left any children.

Two brothers, Myndert and Carsten Frederickse, smiths, were among the early settlers of Beverwyck. They came from Iveren. Among other real estate in the village they owned the north corner of State street and Broadway, and had their smith shop without the south gate on the north corner of Broadway and Spanish (now Hudson) street. They were members of the Lutheran church of which Myndert was elder and Carsten deacon, in 1680. The latter died probably about 1690 leaving four children (see Frederickse).

Myndert Frederickse was armorer to the fort in 1697; made his will March 20, 1703, proved May 1, 1706, in which he spoke of "my house hard by the church in Cow street [now Broadway], and of "my [Lutheran] church book with silver clasps and chain." He married first Catharyn Burchharts [Burger], in New Amsterdam, Aug. 5, 1656; and secondly Pieterje Tenuise Van Vechten, in 1663. At the date of his will, in 1704, he had five children living, viz: Frederick, b. in 1657; Burger, b. 1660, settled in New York; Neeltje, w. of Hendrick Douw; Reynier; Johannes, who settled in Schenectady.

The unsettled condition of the early Dutch family names is well shown by the descendants of Myndert Frederickse, which follow; some took the surname of Myndertse, his Christian name; whilst others took that of Van Iveren, the place from whence he came in Holland.

Roseboom, Hendrick Jansen, trader, was the Voorlezer and sexton of the church; in 1674, he brought a suit to recover his fees from a man who had employed the grave-digger of the Lutheran church, styled an interloper; judgment for the plaintiff 18 guilders. His house and lot originally Pieter Bronck's was on the east side of North Pearl street, 162 Ryndland ft. north of Maiden Lane, and in 1677, the stockades passed through it and the gate (called Roseboom's gate) and the burgher blockhouse were situated there; this was one of the best business places in the village because the Indians entered chiefly through this gate. He was for many years farmer of the slaughter excise. His first wife was Gysbertje Lansing; in his old age he married Tryntje Janse Van Breestede, widow of Rutger Jacobsen; d. Nov. 4, 1703. RUTGERS. Two brothers, Rutger and Tennis Jacobse Van Schoenderwoert or Van Woert were among the early settlers of Beverwyck and originated two families, distinct in name and locality. Rutger Jacobsen's descendants assumed the surname of Rutgers, and were later found in New York and vicinity; his brother Tennis's descendants took the surname Van Schoenderwoert, or simply, Van Woert and settled chiefly in Albany county. [See Van Woert.]

Rutger Jacobsen, alias Rat Van Woert, was a man of considerable repute and wealth in the little village in which he served as magistrate many years, probably until his death in 1665. His business was varied; he owned a sloop upon the river which he sometimes commanded himself; at other times, Abraham De Truwe [Truax now] was his skipper; he was a considerable dealer in village lots and farming lands, among which was the island called Pachonakellick or Mohicander's Island, "obliquely over against Bethelhem," owned in partnership with Andries Herbetsen Constapel, and hence sometimes called Constapel's island: In 1654, he bought Jacob Janse Van Noorstrant's brewery and lot in Beaver street nearly opposite the present Middle Dutch church, which was inherited by his son Herman; he m. Tryntje Janse Van Brestede in New Amsterdam, June 3, 1646; her sister Dorotee subsequently m. Volckert Janse Donw. After Rutger Jacobsen's death, his widow in her old age, m. Hendrick Janse Roseboom, Dec. 5, 1695. She is said to have d. at her son's in 1711 at a very great age. It is not known that Jacobsen had more than three ch.: two daughters, Margaret, who m. Jan Janse Bleecker; and Engel, bp. in New Amsterdam, April 10, 1650; and one son, Harmen.

RUTGERS, Harmen, son of Rutger Jacobsen Van Schoenderwoert last mentioned, was probably b. in Beverwyck soon after his father moved there; he was still living in 1720. He was a brewer, his brewery, which he sold in 1675 to Goosen Gerritse Van Schaick, and Pieter Lassingh, being on the east half of the present Exchange Block; in 1673, Richard Pretty, collector of the excise complained of him for defrauding the excise and selling beer to the Indians, but after considerable litigation the complaint was dismissed. He had two sons, Anthony and Harmen, who settled in New York.

Schut (Schuidt) alias Dommelaer, Willem Jansen, tailor, was in Beverwyck, 1657-68.

Schuyler. Two brothers of this name, David and Philip Pieterse Schuyler, were among the early settlers of Beverwyck, and were the progenitors of the numerous families bearing this name in Albany and vicinity. They came from Amsterdam.

SCHUYLER, David Pieterse, m. Catalyn, dau. of Abraham Verplanck, Oct. 13, 1657, in New Amsterdam. On the 29th Nov., 1692, he lived near the northeast corner of the city walls by the water side, on the south corner of Broadway and Steuben street, and in 1699 she petitioned for an addition of 14 feet to the north side of her lot, which was refused by the city authorities, because "it will reach too near ye City Stockadoes." This lot was occupied in 1709 by Jacobus and Abraham, his sons. His sons who lived to maturity and had families in Albany were: Pieter; Jacobus; Abraham; David; and Myndert.

SCHUYLER, Pieter Davidtse, was a trader and in 1694, lived in Claverack; in 1685, he was commissioned judge of the court of Oyer and Terminer for Albany county; in May, 1696, he was lately deceased. Soegemakelyk, alias Van Woggeelm. Two brothers of this name, Pieter and Jacob Adriaense, with their mother, were early settlers of Beverwyck; both were inn keepers. In 1660, their mother Anna

Pieterse Soegemakelyk was a widow by the death of her second husband, Barent Janse Bal; she d. in Dec. 1669. Pieter Adriaense was apprehended by the revenue officer, Johan De Dekkere, for refusing to pay the excise on his sales of wine, beer, &c., but escaped; he denied the right of the officer of Fort Orange to collect this excise in the Colonie where he lived and in this he was sustained by the Patroon. In 1664 he received a patent for a bouwery and home lot at Schenectady, which he sold in 1670, to Helmer Otten for 35 beavers; after Otten's death his widow married Reyser Jacobse Schermerhorn, and this bouwery thus acquired has remained in this family until the present time. He had at least three children, Pieter, Jan, and a daughter who m. Jan Mangelse. The first, Capt. Pieter Pieterse Van Woggeelm, in 1669 had a lot and garden at Lubberde's land [a part of Troy] and in 1672 he bought of Bouwery Janse Wemp of Schenectady his father's bouwery lying upon and south of the Poestenkill, for 250 beavers; subsequently he sold this land to Dirk Van Der Heyden from whom it passed to his three sons, Jacob, David, and Matthys. Capt. Van Woggeelm was a skipper, and in 1684 was master of the open boat Unly plying between New York and Albany. Jan Pieterse Adriaense Soegemakelyk, the brother of Pieter, was also an inn keeper in 1655, and because he lived without the village of Beverwyck, in the Colonia refused to allow the excise collector to gauge his liquor casks. He is sometimes called Jacob Adriaense Van Utrecht (?).

Van Der Zee, Storm, son of Albert Andries Bratt "de Noorman" came to Rensselaerswyck in 1630. The tradition is that one of Bratt's children was born on shipboard on the passage out in the midst of a heavy storm, in consequence of which, he was called Storm Vanderzee. O'Callaghan's Hist. N. Y. That Van Der Zee was an alias for Bratt in early times is certain; in an old deed Storm's son Wouter is called "Wouter Storm Bratt, alias Wouter Van Der Zee." Storm Van Der Zee was a trader, and in 1661, was complained of for smuggling in New Amsterdam. He m. Ch: Arnout; Cornelis; Peter.

VIELE, Arnout Cornelise, Indian interpreter for many years at all the great meetings held by the natives in Albany, and held in high esteem by them,

THE OLD KOEYMANS MANSION.

Barent Pieterse Koeymans was the original settler, having emigrated to this country from Utrecht, Holland, in 1636, and engaged himself as miller to the first Patroon. He afterwards purchased of the Katskill Indians a tract of land having ten or twelve miles front on the Hudson river and extending westward to the head of the waters falling into the Hudson. A litigation followed between him and the Patroon, which terminated in favor of Koeymans, and in 1714 he obtained a patent from Queen Anne confirming the whole tract to him.

Barent Pieterse Koeymans had five children, and two only remained in Coeymans, the other three settled in other portions of the country. The two who continued to live on the Koeymans patent were Peter and Ariaantje. Peter married twice, but had no male descendants; but left five daughters, all of whom were married. Of the two daughters of his first wife, Mayica married Andreas Witbeck and Elizabeth married Jacob Van Alen. Of the three daughters by his second wife Gerritje married John Barclay; Anne Margaret married Andreas Ten Eyck; Charlotte A. married John Bronck. As we said before, there being no male issue, the family name of Koeymans became extinct in this locality with the death of Peter Koeymans.

Ariaantje Koeymans was married to David Verplank when she was of the age of 47, and died without issue. David Verplank subsequently married and left a large family of children; David inherited Ariaantje's portion of her father's property. The property now known as the old Stone House and all that portion that is now owned by the Ten Eyck family came to them from Peter Koeymans — Ariaantje having never owned any property north of Coeymans creek.

Elizabeth Van Dalson, great granddaughter of Peter Koeymans, married Abraham Verplank, and was the only member of the Verplank family related to the Koeymans family.

Major Verplank, to whose memory a monument has been lately erected in the Cemetery, was in no way related to the old Koeymans family.

The original Koeymans mansion, or Castle as it was called, stood on the site of the building now occupied by the family of the late Josiah Sherman. — Coeymans Gazette.
